HARPER'S FERRY TO BE MADE A SECOND GIBRALTAR —A Harper's Ferry correspondent of the Philadelphia Inquirer writes.

It would be impolitic as well as improper for us to itemize the many preparations on foot to accomplish the above desirable end, and to render this point absolutely impregnable. Already trees are being felled, soon picks and shovels will be in active operation, and from these combined humble instruments, handled by strong and willing hands, will soon be seen rising, as if by magic, fortifications of every size, character and description

Rumor, too, has it that since the appearance of the President among us, orders are or will be soon issued for the rebuilding of all the Government property, the arsenals, work shops, etc., which were destroyed in March, 1861, to prevent it from falling into the hands of the enemy. In fact, it is said that Harper's Ferry, with all its belongings, is to be restored to its former glory and usefulness.—Whether these rumors are true or not will soon be determined, for if such orders are issued the work will be commenced at once.

GENERAL HAMILTON'S REPORT — In his official report of the battle of Iuka, Brigadier General Hamilton claims that 2,800 men met and conquered a rebel force under Price, not less than 11,000, posted in a position naturally strong. The entire loss in Gen Hamilton's division was 688, and more than 400 wounded rebels, with a large number of able bodied prisoners and 800 stand of arms were captured.

A train of six Bactrian camels arrived in Virginia City, Nevada Territory, on Thursday last, from Great Salt Lake City. Each animal came through with six hundred pounds on his back.

FRIDAY MORNING NOV 7 1862

CITY MATTERS—We desire to say a few words to our citizens generally, and more especially to our City Council, relative to the general features of our city government and although it seems almost a hopeless and no doubt will be considered by some an unsolicited task to attempt or urge a reform in certain directions yet as we deem it the duty of a public journalist to inquire into and make public all matters pertaining to the public interest and welfare of the community wherein he lives, we shall therefore assume the task and intend to continue to urge upon our people and the city authorities the necessity of a better system of municipal regulations and more attention to the wants and requirements of our city, which is fast growing in wealth and population, magnificence and importance, notwithstanding the partial opposition we may meet with, or the motives which some may assert as influencing our action

We presume there is not a bona fide citizen of Portland but will agree that there is a necessity for a city government Our population now amounts to more than four thousand Commercial, manufacturing and scientific pursuits of almost every description are carried on quite extensively Social, political and moral requirements and duties are fast increasing in importance and magnitude—Wealth, influence and power has already attained sufficient weight to be felt abroad, and every thing which goes to make up a city of magnitude and grandeur is fast pouring its weight into the scale of Portland's destiny hence, the importance, the absolute necessity of directing and controling the affairs of our municipal government in such a shape as shall secure the continued advancement of its vital interests and best promote its growing importance But we verily believe there is scarce a citizen of the place who is at all acquainted with its history or the affairs of our present city regulations, but will acknowledge that up to this time they have fallen far short of accomplishing the desired object

That there is something radically wrong but few will deny That something is needed to improve its condition, all will admit,—but how to get at it, or what to do is the great sticking point with many—yea, even a majority of our people seem not to know what to do, or if they know, they appear careless and indifferent about making an effort to amend the matter. It is true we have the form, a mere shadow, of a city government, and our people pay pretty dearly for it too A yearly revenue, amounting to a large sum is annually collected and paid into the Treasury of the city to sustain its political organization and keep the wheels in motion The city of Portland has had a chartered existence now for more than eight years, if we mistake not and during this time thousands upon thousands of dollars have been collected from its citizens for municipal purposes and squandered, the Lord knows where

With the exception of three engine houses and appurtenances, (and we do not know that they were paid for altogether by the city) two of them common buildings, together with one very common city jail, and who can tell what else has been done in the way of public city improvements of a substantial and lasting character? Can any one point out to us a single item of expenditure calculated to improve, ornament or beautify the city, in which any considerable expenditure of money is visible? Is it not the universal remark of every one, when reflecting upon this subject and surveying our streets, buildings, parks, squares and public improvements "where in earth has all the money gone to that has been collected for city taxes?"

As has more than once been remarked by us, we never before saw a city of the dimensions, wealth and population of Portland, that presented such a shabby, ragged, dirty neglected and irregular appearance But the question arises just here—who is to blame for all this? Whose fault is it that nothing more has been done? The answer comes back to us—nobody And perhaps the answer is a correct one when considered abstractly, but very erroneous when taken as final Somebody is certainly to blame, and that somebody may be the whole people of the city—doubtless is. More anon

REMOVED.—We learn that the large frame building at the town of Rainier, on the lower Columbia owned by Messrs Moody & Minear, is being removed to the Dalles The removal of this building amounts to the removal of nearly the whole town of Rainier as that was the only noticeable or important improvement of the place We may therefore safely say, that the town of Rainier is "played out" and gone to the Dalles, furnishing another evidence of the frailty of man's judgment, and the impossibility of building up a town with nothing to back it Sic transit gloria Rainier

Cyrus W Field, of New York, is on his way to England with an additional proposal from the United States Government for uniting the two continents by telegraph

Gen. Butler's Rule in New Orleans

[illegible] In [illegible] [illegible] interesting [illegible] of the [illegible] of New Orleans by General Butler. Having [illegible] from a five months sojourn in that city, after enjoying frequent intercourse with the Union officers there, I think I can add [illegible] to the history

I went to New Orleans with a very strong dislike to General Butler [illegible] son [illegible] I had known him for twenty years [illegible] to be a [illegible] advocating almost any [illegible] seeking success by intrigue I had heard [illegible] friend who [illegible] that he [illegible] while on his way [illegible] this as a speculation I will make it pay—So I looked on him as a military adventurer, only inspired by [illegible] than patriotism Then he was a slave [illegible] what was he worth in a war against the [illegible] ters?

I have come from this experiment convinced that General Butler is not the present time [illegible] of our armies is at least just the man to break the back of the rebellion in New Orleans

It is notorious that long before he arrived there he saw the nigger, as a representative of dollars [illegible] the winning card and that emancipation was the trump thenceforward

He began at New Orleans as if he comprehended the situation He said to the Mayor and his Council "Good gentlemen [illegible] I will see how well we work together" He straightway issued an order which highly incensed the aristocracy of traitors The city [illegible] called upon him when he had [illegible] but 1,400 men and said to him in effect "General, your order is considered outrageous; unless you revoke it instantly we cannot be responsible longer for the good conduct of our citizens" "Then I will be responsible from this instant" replied Butler with emphasis "You Mr Mayor are assigned to Fort Lafayette you Aldermen will be conveyed to Fort Pickens, I will run the city myself" And he appointed a Mayor and Board of his own and establish [illegible] Government

He summoned the bankers and said to them "Here I want you to call in and destroy every scrap of rebel shinplaster which these poor people have been obliged to receive from you as equivalent for their deposits and issue in their place good bills for the redemption of which your personal property is hereby held responsible" They protested, "We cannot do it General, our resources are not sufficient," "Bring me a statement of your assets and liabilities," he replied "I will see if you can do it and if you lie to me about your property, you go to Fort Warren till after the war"

"Well gentlemen" he said after looking over their papers, "I am by profession a lawyer, but I was for two years Chairman of the Committee on Banks and Corporations in the Massachusetts Legislature which profited me after a careful examination of the condition of these banks, I have come to the conclusion that they can be run therefore they must be run, if you will do it and take care of your depositors, go ahead, if not, get out of the way—I shall take charge of them myself" Of course they adopted legitimate habits, and continued

The sick at Quarantine were suffering for want of medical aid Army surgeons could not be spared So he sent Secession doctors as surgeons, and said to them "See here! I know that you are infernal rebels every one of you, but go down and take care of my sick, if a man suffers from your inattention or treachery, by [illegible] I will hang him higher than Haman"

He went among the schools, they were poisoned by rebel teachers, and the children were instructed to sing Jeff Davis songs and insult the Union soldiers. He sent to New England for a regiment of school mistresses

Pierre Soule, well known as having been a Senator from Louisiana, and Minister to Spain under Pierce, and now a notorious rebel—made himself most obnoxious by his officious interference with the Union Government One day after an extra effort for some rebel scheme, he called for an interview with Gen Butler It was my good fortune to be in the room, and I certainly shall never forget the remarkable scene Soule was dignified, cold, polite as usual Butler received him most civilly, rising and taking his hand as he approached, Soule commenced what sounded like a set speech "General Butler" he said with an air of deep seriousness "I regret to find yourself and myself upon different roads We have been acquainted for more than fifteen years for ten years we have been intimate friends We have differed sometimes with regard to details, but have agreed always upon great questions of policy Why need we differ now? We met at Charleston to save the Union from the fanaticism of the North We preferred different candidates—you Breckinridge, I Douglas, but our political principles were identical"

"There! not another word" shouted Butler, with an imperative gesture as he sprang to his feet, for as the conspirator proceeded he had been evidently warming to the interruption—"not another word, you hypocrite! You lied to me at Charleston! I shall never forget how basely you lied! I held private interviews with you as a gentleman and a friend—you deceived and deserted me You Pierre Soule, and those who acted with you, said you would stand by me to the last in a fair and legal fight for Southern rights that you would stand by our Northern Democracy You know how false you proved I want to hear no new professions Leave the room instantly! And, by [illegible] if you ever call me friend again, I will give you a ball and chain in Fort Pickens, and if you do not cease your treasonable plottings against the life of the Union I will have you hung from these windows"

The vehemence of General Butler was terrible and the occasional undisguised oaths which flashed here and there did not add mildness to the denunciation Before his fury Soule was speechless His usual self possession had forsaken him, and he tried in vain to recover himself to reply He looked as if he had made his last speech on earth as flushed and crest fallen, trembling and guilty, he bowed under the storm of just imprecations and sneaked away

Since his occupation there, General Butler has fed from United States stores in the hands of the Quartermasters some 30,000 poor people daily—rebel and Union, white and black The people of the North and the people of New Orleans even generally suppose that this hospitality has been indulged at the expense of the Government This is an error At the end of every month General Butler calls upon the Quartermaster for the expenses of feeding the poor A bill is returned accordingly General Butler makes out a list of a few rich Secessionists and publishes it in the Delta as follows

The undersigned persons will call at these headquarters and pay the tax annexed to their names for the support of the poor of this city

Peter Wilmer $3,000
George A [illegible] 10,000
R Jackson 5,000
&c

That is all, and instead of costing the nation, there are now $200,000 in the Contingent Treasury.

CITY.

The MORNING OREGONIAN has a larger SUBSCRIPTION LIST than any other Daily published in this City.

THE DAILY OREGONIAN may be had at the Franklin Book Store and at Charles Barrett's, Front street.

BENEFIT CONCERT.—Messrs Silvers and Plummer inform us that the proceeds of the concert at the M E Church, on Wednesday night last, amounted to $146 50, expenses, $25 50; net proceeds, $121, which is deposited in a safe at the post office to be disbursed under the direction of some suitable person for the benefit of poor and needy immigrants. As yet no one has been selected to take charge of the money and apply it as intended but we have heard it suggested that Rev. Father [illegible] is perhaps best acquainted with the condition of the immigrants in our city and that he be requested and authorized to distribute the money among those he considers most in need of it. We are further requested to say that Messrs. Estes and Stinson deserve the thanks of those interested in getting up the concert for their liberality, in furnishing a quantity of lumber needed for the occasion, without charge. Most of those who were called on for assistance, or small articles used in preparation for the concert, made charges for the same.

ARRIVED.—The sloop Fanny arrived at this place on Wednesday, from Tillamook with [illegible] bushels of potatoes.

NEWSPAPERS.—Our thanks are due J. W. Sullivan, news agent, San Francisco, for files of late Atlantic and California papers, received by last night's mail. All persons wishing to subscribe for Atlantic papers or periodicals can make sure of their subscriptions and money being received and papers returned by remitting to this establishment.

SERENADES.—Somebody was out night before last, either on a "Committee" or Serenading party, as we heard considerable noise resembling cats-a-fighting, immediately followed by a general "skedaddle."

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.—We call the attention of our readers to the Auburn and Dalles advertisements found in this morning's issue. Read them, everybody.

OYSTERS.—From a gentleman who recently came up from Tillamook Bay, we learn that 300 baskets of oysters were shipped from that point to San Francisco this season. The oysters are said to be superior to Shoalwater Bay oysters. The San Francisco price is one dollar per basket.

Eastern News

NEW YORK, October 30th.—A Tribune letter, dated Williamsport, October 27th, says that a young man who had been in Richmond during the war arrived there yesterday. He asserts the condition of the rebel army at Winchester as awful beyond description. The small pox and typhoid fever were raging fearfully. He says there were no troops at Martinsburg, and but a few cavalry between there and the river. The main portion of Lee's army is still between Winchester and Bunker Hill, where the next great battle will probably be fought. Nothing could be seen indicating a design on Lee's part to retreat.

HARRISBURG, October 29th.—Rev. Robert [illegible], a Secessionist, was arrested last [illegible] exhibiting signals to the enemy.

[illegible]VILLE, October 29th.—All persons who actively aided or abetted the invasion of Kentucky, within the last three weeks, are to be arrested, sent to Vicksburg, and not allowed to return to Kentucky.

Morgan's forces are reported to have left Kentucky, via Elkton, and gone to Gallatin, Tenn.

NEW YORK, October 30th.—The Times [illegible] special dispatch says: The President was busily engaged in the preparation of [illegible], and declines receiving visitors, [illegible] having important business.

NEW YORK, October 30th.—The accounts in the Richmond papers of the occupation of Galveston do not differ materially from that already telegraphed. The latest telegram from Galveston, dated Oct. 6th, says the Fed[erals] landed yesterday at the Point, but have [illegible] occupied it, having a whole[some] fear of a cavalry dash. The rebels were engaged in removing all the machinery that could be got off, and it was not probable the enemy would find much on the island of value. Orders have been issued to the people that as soon as the Confederate troops left the island communication would be cut off, and no supplies allowed to enter the city.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30th.—David Davis of Illinois has been appointed by the President Associate Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 30.—Warrants have been issued for the arrest of Messrs. Steele & Parker, shipping agents, and a sailor boarding house keeper named Kelly, who are charged with kidnapping men to serve as sailors, during [illegible] weeks past. Numbers of men engaged in pursuits along the water front have been missed, and there is every reason to believe they were shanghaied. The matter has [become] so notorious that the police had to interfere. Judge Cowles to-day evidenced his intention to break up the traffic.

Five silver bricks, worth over fifteen thousand dollars, were received last night from [illegible] county, Nevada Territory, and will be forwarded to the Sanitary Committee next Saturday.

The steamer Sierra Nevada, from Northern ports, arrived this morning at two o'clock with $327,491 in treasure—$80,000 of which came from Victoria—and 340 passengers.

GOLD MINES IN UTAH.—A Salt Lake correspondent says:

There has been several arrivals here within the past two weeks from the newly discovered gold mines, about four hundred miles north east of this city. They all bring more or less [gold dust], which is of the finest quality. A [man] arrived here yesterday bringing twenty-six ounces of the dust. He reports about three hundred men at work at Beaver Head, and there are four hundred at another place. The miners come here after supplies, and will fit out and return at once. All the claims that have been opened are said to be paying well. The Indians are said to be friendly in the vicinity of the mines.

It is reported that Majors McKay and Gibbs were offered their release from Fort Alcatraz if they would take the oath of allegiance, but they declined.

MOTTO FOR UNIONISTS.—Overthrow the rebellion as it is, and you restore "the Union as it was."

FIELD'S STEAMED OYSTERS!

MR. A. FIELD, whose Oysters [illegible] enjoyed the highest reputation in this market, has recently invented an entirely new process of packing, which possesses every advantage over the method heretofore employed [illegible] preserves the natural flavor, freshness and shape of the Oyster that they may be called Stewed, Fried, Scolloped or Fancy Roasted—in fact cooked in any manner adapted to those just taken from the shell. They will not be broken into pieces by land travel, however lengthy, and will retain their sweetness after the can is cut longer than secured by any other method.

Shipments arrived and for sale by all the Grocery Jobbers in San Francisco.

DR. BAKER'S

PAIN PANACEA.

Is composed entirely of healing gums and vegetable oil and herbs. It is perfectly safe for the most delicate to use. I can most sincerely say that I have never known any, however delicate, to be injured by it in the least. I will continue to ask the afflicted who have not used it to try it for the following diseases. If they are not satisfied with its healing properties the money will be cheerfully returned by the agent where the medicine is for sale.

If you have pain in the stomach or bowels try a dose of Pain Panacea internally, bathe externally over the parts affected and it will at once restore the proper action and relieve the pain.

If you have a Bruise or Wound bathe it well with the Pain Panacea four times a day. It will relieve the pain and take out all the poison, and heal the wound in a short time.

If you are suffering from Neuralgia or Rheumatic Pains apply the Pain Panacea freely and take a dose of it internally morning, noon and night. It will not only cure the pain but will remove the cause of the disease.

If you have the Dyspepsia and your food distresses your stomach after eating take a dose of Pain Panacea after each meal.

If you have a Cankered or Sore Mouth or Throat, apply the Pain Panacea to the affected parts and gargle the mouth or throat three or four times a day.

If you have the Diarrhoea or a relaxed state of the bowels take a dose of Pain Panacea, and they will soon be restored. If you have a painful swelling, bathe the parts freely and you will soon relieve pain, and the swelling will be reduced.

If you have a severe tooth-ache apply the Pain Panacea on a piece of cotton and bathe gum at the same time. It will stop the pain instantly.

If you have a pain in the Breast, Side, Back or Kidneys bathe the parts affected morning and night, at the same time take a dose of the Panacea internally.

If a Mother has a caked breast, apply the Panacea as hot as it can be borne.

If you feel chilly or cold, as though you were going to have a fever, take a dose of Panacea.

If you have a wound, cut or galls upon your horse apply the Pain Panacea. It will take out all the inflammation and heal the sore in a short time.

PICTURES ARE THE BEST IN OREGON

THE HORRORS OF SECESSION.—The Sacramento Union says:

We have New York journals of October 3d, received by Overland mail. The chief topic of these papers is the remarkable speech delivered by Col. Andrew J. Hamilton, of Texas, in Brooklyn. This effort must have greatly astonished the "Democratic" allies of Jeff. Davis in that quarter. The son of an Alabama planter and himself a slaveholder, Col. Hamilton boldly declared in favor of the abolition of slavery, characterized the war as intended by its projectors to subvert free institutions in America, and insisted upon the prosecution of the struggle with all the power of the loyal States, in order to save the liberty of white men North and South.

The existence of a reign of terror in the rebel States equal to any which prevailed in France during the revolution is fully established by the testimony of Col. Hamilton, who was a member of the United States Congress when the farce of an election was gone through with, in Texas, of voting that State out of the Union. He returned to Texas and opposed secession and disunion until he was forced to flee for his life. Shortly after his escape his house was surrounded by rebel soldiers, the commander brutally informing Mrs. Hamilton that he was sorry her husband had escaped, as he would have hung him before her eyes on one of his own shade trees. According to his statement the Union men in Western Texas held out for the old flag as long as they could, but as they were unorganized and unarmed, were compelled to give up when a rebel force was sent into that section. Many of them fled to Mexico. Some two hundred within his knowledge were hung because they clung to the Union and refused to swear allegiance to the rebel Government. Of the effect of secession and rebellion on the people of Texas, Col. Hamilton says:

"The consequences of all this are too apparent to-day. In all the broad limits of that State there was no man who could say he was actually poor. He might have but a humble home, a little log cabin, but he had plenty. This was before the era of Secession. Go to that poor man's home now. You will find his wife clothed in rags, and weeping for her husband, who, she will tell you, three days ago was dragged off as a conscript to pour forth his blood like water in furtherance of a cause which he detests.

"Such is the condition of affairs in Texas. There is no Government there except that of a horde of military officers, who have established martial law—a martial law of Vigilance Committees and petty tyrants—the people ground down by war taxes and heartless exactions by officials, and watched over with unrelenting tyranny. When a man is suspected of being friendly to the cause of the Union he is arrested and then furnished with a safe conduct out of the limits of the State, and then—is hung by a mob. More than two hundred men have perished thus fearfully within the last eight months—poor, humble men, who have testified with their lives to their loyalty and faith in free governments, and more are being and will be hung if help is not sent into their midst."

LEWIS CASS AND THE PROCLAMATION.—A private letter from Colonel F. A. Eastman of this city, dated Detroit, October 3d, to one of the editors of this paper, contains gratifying information. He called upon Lewis Cass to pay that venerable statesman his respects, and what transpired we give in Eastman's own language:

"I told General Cass that I had always admired and supported him as a Democrat, but that perhaps he would not regard me as a Democrat now, as I had pledged my support to the present officers of the Government, and to all the war measures. He replied, 'You are right. The Government is right. You young men must sustain it.' Invited thus to continue the conversation, I said, 'But I approve of the emancipation proclamation and all.' The old patriot responded promptly, 'So do I.' After a few minutes spent in conversation upon general topics, he came back to the proclamation again. He observed that whether or not the President had the constitutional right to declare the slaves free, the President's friends did not strengthen the measure by claiming it to be constitutional. 'I do not deny,' he said, 'that there is that in the Constitution to justify the act; but the circumstances of the country clearly justify it.' He did not fear its effect in the South: he only hoped it would prove effectual. He could not understand how any old Democrat could have any sympathy with the South, and he hoped that if there were any persons in the North who would ever consent to a separation, they would not be permitted to have any position or influence.—Chicago Tribune.

It is remarkable that a settlement of Quakers, near Mount Vernon, have continued unmolested during the entire war, though alternately included within national and rebel lines. Their semi-weekly meetings have been regularly continued; sometimes a rebel picket pacing in front of the building, and perhaps a Union sentinel having the same beat the next week. They have remained undisturbed both in property and person.

AFFAIRS IN VICKSBURG, MISS.—CAIRO, Oct. 9th.—Montgomery, the business man of the Vicksburg Whig, arrived from that place to-day with his family. He gives a gloomy picture of affairs in that city, and says that the Union sentiment is being rapidly developed. The people, he says, are waiting anxiously for the appearance of the gunboats, and thinks an hour's bombardment will cause the capitulation of the city. Merchandise and necessaries are enormously high. King cotton is destroyed. The staple is not worth three cents per pound, and a bale will not buy a pair of Yankee shoes.—Dispatch to the Chicago Tribune.

THE REBELS AFTER STOVES.—A Union man who escaped from Lexington, Ky., and arrived in Covington, states that, by a recent order of Gen. Kirby Smith, all the stoves in that city have been seized and carried to the foundries, where they are cast into shot and shell. The order caused great complaint among the citizens, both Secesh and Union.
